

Roles Sought

- Drupal developer
- Drupal themer / frontend developer
- Drupal consultant / advisor / trainer

Summary

I am a British Web and Drupal developer currently seeking remote contract opportunities.

I am proficient in all aspects of Drupal including site installation/maintenance/updating, troubleshooting, custom module and theme development, installation profiles, Drupal coding standards and training.

To date I have been involved in or lead developer on over 30 Drupal projects, including projects for high profile clients like Adobe and Warner Brothers.

I am a good communicator and am very experienced with working with clients in different timezones and locations, I am organised, adaptable, work well under pressure, learn quickly, keep to deadlines and am equally at ease working alone or as part of a team.

Away from client work, I am the founder of DrupalSN.com, a successful Drupal community with over 5000 members to date.

When I'm not working I love to travel and have lived in several different countries in the last 5 years. I also enjoy sports especially football (soccer) and running which I try to do 3-4 times a week.

Experience & Employment

I have been a self employed web developer, specialising in Drupal-based projects, since 2003.

Although most of my work has been carried out as a lead developer or working alone, I am equally as comfortable when working as part of a team. My clients have ranged from architects, theatre companies, photographers, holiday companies, social networking sites, HR consultancy, design companies to the fields of education, tourism and health.

Since September 2007 I have worked regularly as a remote Drupal Developer on a contract basis for Vancouver-based Drupal shop, ImageX Media. I also spent 9 months working "in house" in Vancouver.

Away from the development process I also have a detailed understanding and knowledge of the complete project process from design and discovery, information architecture, content preparation, site building, usability, quality assurance, client liaison and to a small degree, project management.

During early 2010 I also acted as Drupal consultant for 829LLC.com during the creation of a Drupal based community site (<http://thelicensingnetwork.com>).

From April 2011 to August 2012 I contracted for Norwegian based company Front Kommunikasjon during which time I was a lead developer & consultant on several major projects. I also helped train employed staff on Drupal.

Since September 2012 I have been back contracting with ImageX Media where I act as a consultant carrying out development tasks, project estimations & site auditing.

I have a Higher National Certificate (HNC) in Multimedia. The course covered all areas of Multimedia including sound, animation, video production, story boarding as well as web design & development. It was during my 2 years of study I discovered my passion for Web Development.

Testimonials

"We needed a simple web site set up quickly. Tom did a great job. He was able to create clarity from some pretty vague ideas and responded quickly to deliver exactly what we needed. The Wheel website has generated unsolicited, positive feedback from visitors and I have no hesitation in recommending Tom's work to my professional network."

Chris Thomas, Founder, The Wheel Consultancy.

"For a number of years Tom has been a go-to developer for ambitious projects with tight deadlines. Tom's dedication to his work and efficiency make him an invaluable member of our team. One of Tom's greatest assets as a developer is his understanding of design and overall user experience concerns. These cross functional skills are difficult to find. Even more difficult to find is a developer with all of these skills and a deep knowledge about what makes a successful Drupal implementation. I highly recommend Tom and would not hesitate to work with him again given the opportunity."

Rick Vugteveen, VP of Technology, ImageX Media

"Tom is a very skillful drupal developer who can embrace tight deadlines and deliver everything on time with perfection. Aside co-worker he is a good friend who knows how to enjoy life away from the keyboard. Definitely one of the quickest Drupal developers I ever worked with. Precise, focused and organized."

Alex Jonatan Ventpap, Interactive Designer, All-x.ca

"Tom's done full time freelance Drupal development for ImageX Media for the last couple of years in the UK. He's been doing such a fantastic job for us that we invited him to come over and work with us in-house. We've really been impressed with Tom's work ethic, great ideas and the quality of development he does. He's is a solid, loyal team member who is well respected by his teammates and our clients. He continues to impress with his innovative & entrepreneurial mind both in the projects here at ImageX and with his endeavors on his personal startup DrupalSN."

Glenn Hilton, President/Creative Director, ImageX Media
